AMHERST SAXOPHONE QUARTET TO PERFORM AT UD

DAYTON, Ohio, February 9, 1988--The University of Dayton's 1987-88 Arts Series continues Monday, Feb. 29 as the Amherst Saxophone Quartet comes to the Kennedy Union's Boll Theatre for an 8 p.m. concert. The quartet has performed extensively throughout America, including appearances at Carnegie Hall and on "The Tonight Show."

The four saxophonists are Salvatore Andolina, soprano; Stephen Rosenthal, tenor; Michael Nascimben, alto; and Harry Fackelman, baritone. They are Chamber Music America Artists-in-Residence at Buffalo State College, where they teach advanced classes and give performances when they are not touring the country. All have performed with the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra.

The Amherst Saxophone Quartet's repertoire includes music from the Baroque era, jazz, avant-garde and ragtime. Their program at UD includes selections from Johann Sebastian Bach, Paul Creston, Stephen Parisi, Robert Clerisse and Elliot A. DelBorgo. They also will play two original arrangements: a medley of George Gershwin compositions and "Ragtime-America's Classical Music."

Those who do not hold Arts Series season tickets may purchase tickets the night of the performance. Tickets are $3 for students; $5 for faculty, staff and alumni; and $6 for the public. UD's Arts Series is funded, in part, by the Ohio Arts Council. For more information about the performance, call Maureen Masters at 229-2347.
